

Bonovo's Presence in the 11th Chinese National Pain Management Medicine Conference in XiAn on May 20th, 2016

The 11th Chinese National Pain Management Medicine Conference was held in XiAn on May 20th, 2016. Bonovo as an exclusive distributor for full elliquence product line attended the conference with a booth and the product demo shows. The show case got tremendous attraction among the attendees. The products were highly accepted by spine and PM experts. More and more spine and PM physicians are paying attention to the rapid development of pain management medicine. The establishment of pain management medicine as an individual subject, and its practice management have been increasingly considered by the attendees as a high-level importance and academic interest. Elliquence products and technology have provided effective MIS treatment solutions specific to pain management medicine, which earns its reputation in this conference.

The conference was concluded on May 23rd, 2016. The national sales manager of Elliquence products, Mr. Gan Qilong with his sales team, Sr. product manager, Mr. Dines De, and the customer service manager, Miss Tina Tan attended this onference.
